What is your relationship with Nature?

This question was the beginning and the core of our project BOCHIALKI or Encounters on the way. We travelled in five countries to meet and talk to women and men who have a special connection with Nature. Thanks to these discussions we have been able to see the world from different perspectives, to challenge our own opinions and get inspired to change our own behaviour.

Today, we want to share our experiences with you. Come to our exhibition and participate to our workshops to find out what your answer might be.
